Madame Butterfly, Our President, says

The Heart of Christmas

As the colors of the butterfly make us smile, the wind from the fluttering of their wing's sooth us, and the gracefulness of their flight brings peace. I hope this time of Christmas love gives us the same feelings.

I celebrated Thanksgiving with my family in Nashville, TN. We all gathered at my Granddaughter's house. I have a small family, but we were all there.

It was wonderful being surrounded by so much love. After Thanksgiving dinner, we went to the movie theater to see Wicked for Good.

Now it is time to get ready for Christmas. I have heard from some of you that you already have your tree up, some of you several trees, and your Christmas shopping finished. I really admire you for your organizational skills. Last night I took all the Thanksgiving decorations to the garage, but they aren't boxed up yet. I don't have any Christmas decorations out yet, and I have only bought one family gift. I do have the gifts ready for Delta Iota's Christmas lunch. The Delta Iota lunch is on December 4th, so it is a good thing I am ready.

This is the season for celebrating the birth of our Savior, Jesus Christ. I can't think of a better way to honor him than to give to those that are less fortunate. As members of ESEA, we know the value of giving to worthy causes. We give to St. Jude Children's Hospital, Easterseals, we honor the Veterans through Wreaths Across America, giving to the Veterans homes, and countless other local charities plus projects we have adopted. The food banks need our donations to feed those that are having a hard time feeding their families. There are so many reasons that people get down on their luck. We don't know what is going on in others' lives, but we can help. Remember that animals need help also; so, consider donating to shelters that care for animals. There are so many opportunities to help.

As I get older, I find myself thinking of the family holiday gatherings when I was younger. I go back to those times in my mind, and it brings happy and sad tears to my eyes. My Mother and Dad had six children, so our house was always full. I am the only one left of that large family. I will honor each one of them by remembering the love we shared not only during the holiday gatherings, but the love we shared throughout our lives. I know that each of you has memories of the happiness you shared with your families.

South Carolina did a great job hosting SERC in Myrtle Beach. The food was good, and the fellowship was inspiring. Myrtle Beach was the beautiful setting for the 2025 SERC Conference. The view from the hotel room was beautiful. We were privileged to see beautiful sunrises and sunsets over the ocean. I can't put into words the beauty of them. I love the sound of waves hitting the shore; to me it is so relaxing. What a privilege to relax by the shore.

Georgia did very well with awards. I will tell you more about them at the Mid-Year meeting.

The Georgia old bag went for $150. The winning bid got a bargain since the purse had $150 in gift cards and $30 in cash. Georgia gave a generous donation in items for the Christmas stockings for the female veterans. The goal was to fill 100 Christmas stockings, but the donations filled more than 100 stockings. I don't know the total count, but the SERC states were very generous.

We were so proud to see our own Susan Garner installed as the SERC Treasurer. I know Susan will do a wonderful job as Treasurer.

The year is passing fast. It is almost time for our Mid-Year Meeting. It will be in Atlanta hosted by Delta Iota. You can find the registration form on the Georgia ESA website and attached to this newsletter.

Please plan to attend. I am looking forward to seeing you.

The Georgia State Council Convention will be here before you know it. I hope you have been keeping up with your volunteer hours, monies, and donated items. I can't wait to hear about the Educational Programs you will be entering for awards. The Association of the Arts will be so exciting. There is so much talent in our Georgia Council. Share that talent with us that aren't creative.

I have attended the monthly State President's Zoom Meetings. The ESAMC Board is working on the ESA website. They are trying to make it more user friendly. The IC Board is still making changes. Just when I think I know what is going on the information changes a little. Hopefully I will be able to report the final changes soon. My next Zoom meeting is December 17th .

I have submitted articles to five of the six Manifests, the IC newsletter. If chapters have sent me any information on what they are doing I put that information in my article. I know the Manifest is large, and some of you may have trouble downloading it. If you can't download the newsletter, please let me know.

My prayer for you during this joyous Christmas season is that you feel peace, hope and love. Those three things are the heart of Christmas.

Keep fluttering your wings for ESA. You are making a difference.

Ruth Ann Edge
GSC President

Grow our GSC Family

I hope you are flitting around like the butterflies we love and appreciate with your family and friends during this time of year. Each contact is special with those we see often or not often enough.

Think about your opportunities to approach a new or long-time friend about checking out ESA. It is a wonderful family that we love and think they will also. It never fails to make me smile when I hear about what our Georgia folks are doing to raise funds and how they are helping people. Invite someone new to help and let them see what we do so well.

I am wishing each of you the happiest of holidays, and may your new year be an opportunity to be special – because you made it that way.

Sharron Smoot
1st Vice President

If I called, would you answer?

I called a member and asked them to float an idea at their next business meeting. The idea? For their chapter to host GSC Convention 2028. Their next meeting is January 2026. Now I wait....

Does your chapter have a member who is great with keeping paperwork organized? A “money-savvy” member that keeps detailed records? If you said yes to either or both, your chapter may be an ideal convention host. Please call me to brainstorm how we could work together to have a great convention.

I’m not great at waiting.... Call me.

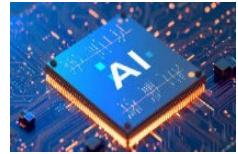

Susan McVey
Second Vice President

Hmmm! How Would That Work?

So, I've been toying with the thoughts of how AI could impact the Recording Secretary's job and how to improve the minutes of our meetings. What if we invited AI to our meetings? We could just record all the meetings and input the recordings into our computer, hand it over to AI with instructions and parameters and have them cough out perfect minutes. Would this be the best-case scenario or is there a different streamlined version available? Would they handle the charts with the attendees present, absent, chapter counts, vote counts differently? Would the GSC be better off with an impartial observer or would "they" miss the nuances that we are more familiar with? Would our terminology baffle "them"? What are your thoughts? Mull this over in your mind. Give me pros and cons and methodology. Would this be a kerfuffle or a mindless exercise?

Luanne Langmo,
Recording Secretary

Christmas is ...

Christmas is the most wonderful time of the year, isn't it? A time to celebrate the miracle of the coming of the Lord, a time to enjoy family and friends, a time to share blessings with each other. It's a tree with gifts, a golden wreath on the door, stockings on the back of the winged back chair, because the fireplace wasn't in the living room. Christmas is peace and joy, but most of all Christmas is love.

We always enjoyed decorating our home and hosting family and friends with homemade eggnog and homemade sweets along with sausage balls and cheese straws. On Christmas Day, we enjoyed Santa Claus's and each other's gifts by opening each gift one by one! It spread out the excitement of the morning. Then we cooked side dishes and headed to our "adopted family's" home for the Christmas dinner party. What fond memories!

May all the wonders of Christmas be with each of you this season and into the new year!

Joyeux Noel!

Corresponding Secretary

A Proud Grandmother

I Love this time of year! As my family gathered around the table at Thanksgiving, I remembered Thanksgiving at my grandparents' home and now I am the grandparent. I had over 20 family members around my table and my proudest moment was when my grandson said the Blessing. The day after it was time to move into the Christmas spirit. I got 5 Christmas trees up and most of my shopping is done.

"Wishing you all the timeless treasures of Christmas. The warmth of home, the love of family and the company of good friends" Happy Holidays to all!

Sheryl Gootee
Treasurer

Apple Cake, Coffee and a Warm Blanket

Br-r-r, it's cold outside! I hope you all are staying nice and toasty on these very cold days we are having just think, we haven't even gotten to winter and we are shivering! I do hope you all had a nice Thanksgiving and spent time with your loved ones. I know I did! We had a feast!

Just to recap from my last article; no, I have not, nor do I plan to have my ice maker replaced. At a cost of nearly half the entire cost of the refrigerator, I decided that ice cube trays would work just fine. I am being a little frugal here, but I will just go with the flow. I did, however, make it to Ellijay where I enjoyed a day with Stormy, sitting in a rocking chair eating a fried apple pie and drinking a cup of coffee on their little patio area. We both enjoyed the day and brought home several types of apples. I will need to go again before too long.

Christmas is approaching fast and I still have not put out any holiday decorations. I hope to do that very soon. Just before Thanksgiving I discovered a recipe that is so easy to make. I served it at our Thanksgiving meal and at a few other gatherings I attended and it was a hit! So, I will share it with you. So far, I have made 8 loaves with request for more. The loaves freeze well too!

"Apple Pie Bread"

- 1 can Apple Pie filling
- 1 box Yellow Cake Mix
- 4 eggs slightly beaten
- 1 cup Self-Rising Flour
- 1 Tablespoon Cinnamon
- 1 cup chopped medium Apple (any type)

Directions:

Pour Apple Pie filling in a large bowl and break up the apples.

Add all the remaining ingredients and mix.

Pour batter into 2 greased loaf pans

(Optional: lightly sprinkle top with sugar and cinnamon)

Bake at 325 degrees for 35-45 minutes.

Enjoy your Christmas Holidays, stay safe and be thankful for the many blessings you have in your life and don't forget about your "furry friends or family for some." I made and delivered 30 blankets, 1 cat bed and 2 dog beds to our local animal shelter this past month, just in time for the cold weather. I have also been busy making throw lap blankets (12 so far) for the Veterans at the VA Nursing home (Trinka Davis) in Carrollton. In the near future they will be delivered, along with Christmas Stockings my chapter (Alpha Beta) stuffed with goodies for the residents.

As you can see, I have been busy with the above activities and doing for others. Now, I mingle in reviewing and researching of the ESA Bylaws, Standing Rules and our Policy Manual (Jaw-Ja Guide), which I gladly do for each of you, in the mix and you have a good picture of my life these days.

MERRY CHRISTMAS! HAPPY NEW YEAR! STAY SAFE AND REMEMBER, YOU ARE LOVED!

Gail Marchant
Parliamentarian

A Gift of Love

The holidays are here. I hope everyone had a great Thanksgiving and you bought everything you needed for your gift list on Black Friday. The absolute craziness is just a small part of this wonderful season. Now it is the time for giving and to remember the reason for the season. I am happy to report that I have continued to receive donations for the Disaster Fund. I have submitted Georgia's third report with one chapter donating $25. This brings our total to date to $215.00.

We are still shy of achieving at least one half of just one claim. During this season of giving I hope to receive more donations. Please remember that I asked each member to consider donating just $5.00 a month this year. Consider this a great gift to all of your ESA sisters and brothers.

Jr. Past President/Disaster Fund Chair

Where are our Artists?

This year is almost history, and we need to be thinking about Association of the Arts for Convention so put your mind in gear, to submit something to show off your talent.

Janie and I are looking for a lot of participation for their talent to be displayed.

Thankful Blessings

Hello GSC family.

The holiday season is upon us, and I am so thankful for all the many blessings that we receive, whether it's big or small. If you are thinking about helping others and you are not sure where to start, may I suggest checking with your local churches, schools, nursing homes, assisted living facilities, veteran's village, homeless shelters, animal shelters, etc. to see if there is something they need that perhaps you, your chapter, or just a group of friends could contribute. Whether it's monetary, items, or your time, every little bit helps.

Please remember to jot down any volunteer work you are doing to spread your wings with ESA. Make sure you keep up with your hours, mileage, monies donated, and value of items donated. Please feel free to reach out to me with questions.

To you and your family, I wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Susan Garner
Philanthropic Chair

Plan Ahead

Hello GSC Family,

The 2025 SERC Conference is in the books. Georgia had six members with three guests attend. SERC President Lauren Ryan's theme for this coming year is "Beyond the Rainbow," and she encouraged all members to look beyond the rainbow and find new ways to spread the word of ESA. The 2026 SERC Conference will be held at the Holiday Inn, 5711 W. Irlo Bronson Memorial Highway, Kissimmee, Florida, on October 23-24, 2026, and the theme is "Tropical State of Mind." Room Rates will be $109 - $133 per night. More details will be shared later.

Yummy Ideas for St. Jude and Christmas Memories

As I lie here worrying about my house not being decorated and how many things I have to do to get ready for Christmas, I have finally made myself aware of the fact that I cannot control everything. What a time of the year to have my toe cut on again; but, alas, it is nothing to what the children at St. Jude hospital must endure every day. What can we do to help the children? Continue to support them in any way possible.

This month I am asking you to support through Hot Chocolate and Cookies. December 13 is Hot Chocolate Day...invite friends over for a cup of hot chocolate and donate $5.00 per cup. If you went out and treated them to a cup of hot chocolate, then you would not only pay for the hot chocolate, but tip, also. So, invite them in and enjoy an hour or two with friends.

The second break in your holiday hustle is my made-up "Georgia ESA Cookies for St. Jude Day December 20." Take orders from friends, co-workers, church members, etc., and sell them cookies for St. Jude Hospital. Nothing fancy.

While you are baking your own cookies, bake enough for 5 bags of 6 cookies each and charge whatever you want for them. This could be a fun St. Jude Hospital event for Georgia ESA each year.

As I look back on fond memories of Christmas, I always remember December 18th. That was the day we, as a family, put up our tree, had sandwiches, hot chocolate and hot tea with dessert. Bologna (beef) sandwiches seemed to taste so good, as we very seldom had processed food. The tree was cut the Sunday before and put into a bucket of water. As it was brought in by my father and my brother, my two siblings and myself. I thought the world centered in that white house on Highway 35 N in Mississippi. With my father toying with those electric lights that weren't working and my mother reminding us in her low voice to "not throw that tinsel" on the tree but do it one string at a time, December 18 was everything we had anticipated...family, fun, food, and scrambling to find your favorite ornament that was given to you and to be sure it was placed on the right limb so everyone could see it. I still have about 30 of those favorite ornaments, some still with toothpicks and string for hanging when we ran out of hooks and made our own hangers. Each year one ornament is selected to be on my tree. Since the ornaments are so fragile, they are placed each year in a container to be seen by family and friends.

By the way, when cleaning out my family home in Mississippi, some of that tinsel that was returned, string by string, by my mother to its original box is now part of my decorated tree. Yes, I return the tinsel each year to its original box.

Food was different in my home, as my family hailed from Newfoundland...stuffing was the high light of the meal. Mama's stuffing recipe is still used in my home. My siblings and I were perhaps the only children at school that did not know cornbread dressing. We stuffed that bird on Christmas Eve and it was placed in the oven after we all returned from Midnight Mass at 1:30-2:00 am. Then, music, food, drinks and fun with friends and family. Bed time...who cared...it was Christmas Day and the celebration of our Lord's Birth. We partied on "Harvey Hill" and everyone in the community knew when to be there. Life was good then and Christmas memories abound.

Make your own Christmas Memories each year, even if it's a "Clark Griswold" Christmas!!!!

St. Jude Chair

Yearbook Update

Hello My Friends!!!

I hope that everyone has a wonderful Christmas and Holiday Gathering. It is the time we appreciate our loved ones and our Lord.

Now, just a reminder that if you have any changes/updates/corrections etc. to the yearbook I would need to have them by January 26, 2026.

Take care and I hope to see you at Mid-Year.

Mariposa Magic! from our Chapters

Georgia Gold Mine Attraction

The Alpha Beta Chapter took a little field trip recently to the Pine Mountain Gold Museum in Villa Rica, GA. The mining camp was established in 1826 and is Georgia's only gold museum, situated on the site of an actual gold strike and West Georgia's only authentic 19th century gold stamp mill. Georgia's first historian tells of a discovery in Carroll County near present day Villa Rica in 1826 but did not list his sources. The Villa Rica claim was not widely recognized and remained conjecture and folklore for 175 years. Dahlonega played host to the first widely publicized gold rush in the state in 1829.

According to ground surveys taken in the mid 1820's, gold was discovered in the northern parts of Carroll County near present day Villa Rica. This region was included in the Dahlonega Gold Belt. Throughout the mid 1800's the Dahlonega Gold Belt was one of the richest gold formations ever found in the continental United States.

As the gold diminished, the miners moved northward to the Cherokee Indian territory. This discovery of gold was the driving force for the removal of the Native Americans in this area. Nineteen commercial gold mining operations were recorded in and around Villa Rica, but only the Pine Mountain Gold Mine was commercially mined after 1900.

Unfortunately for us, the museum was closed and will be closed until March 2026 for renovations, but the outside exhibits were great, and we walked along the paths for up close and personal looks at some of the equipment that was used when the mine was operational. After it reopens in the spring, visitors can actually pan for gold for a small fee. A train ride is available, and has special events (i.e., ride the Ghost Train every Thursday through Saturday in October, Winter Wonderland every Thursday through Saturday in December) and others which are listed on their website: villa rica.org/pine mountain gold museum/special events.

Alpha Delta chapter members had a fun time making door hangers at their Christmas crafting party at the Teal Barn Company in Bremen.

Christmas Galore

On December 4, 2025, Debra Williams opened her beautifully decorated home to her Delta Iota sisters for their December meeting/luncheon/Christmas gift exchange.

The members feasted on Lasagna, salad, fresh fruits, sweets, and a birthday cake celebrating the December birthdays of Karen Smith and Ruth Ann Edge.

After lunch we exchanged gifts. The explosion of gifts made it look like Santa came early to the Williams house.

We didn't forget to give to others. The members brought donations for Ruth Ann to deliver to Must Ministries, and frozen turkeys for Betsy to deliver to the VA hospital.

I hope each of you are feeling the spirit of love and giving during this very special season.

MERRY CHRISTMAS and HAPPY NEW YEAR

Small but Full of Spirit

Even though we are small, we still have been busy. Mary Cooper and I attended IC in Cary, NC in July. We enjoyed the fellowship with our Georgia delegation and renewing friendships from across the country.

Our chapter, along with Sigma Chi sponsored Leadership and Fall Board at the Dalton Shrine Club. We had a weekend full of fun activities that I think everyone enjoyed. Santa Jim did a Low Country Boil on Saturday Night that was a hit for those that participated and one of the Shriners was our Bartender.

I was unable to attend SERC due to my 50th High School Reunion being the same weekend. I couldn't miss that but would have liked to have supported Susan Garner and am so glad she won her position on the SERC Board.

Mary and I worked on the Atlanta Dream Home. We not only worked in the ALSAC office in Atlanta sorting tickets but also worked the Dream Home. I served as Co-Chair of the Atlanta Dream Home with Sherry Presley.

Jim and I have started our Santa Season and most of what we do is philanthropic. Some of the places we visit are Special Olympics, Boys Camp; Girls Club, Morning Pointe Assisted Living and Memory Care, Royal Oaks Senior Living, and Whitfield County Fire Department Santa in Uniform just to name a few. We also do the Calhoun Downtown Tree Lighting and the Calhoun Christmas Parade. Very few of our appearances are paid and those just cover our expenses. We love what we do, and it is not for the money.

Mary and I plan to attend Mid-Year in February and the Convention in May. We hope to see everyone there.

DO Girls on the Holiday Go

The Delta Omega girls are working towards the Ho-Ho-Holidays. Luanne has been working towards December 25 for a while. As you know she quilts and has an embroidery machine, so she has been thinking of gifts and trying to get things done in time for the holidays. She is taking a break to head down to Orlando with her extended family and plans to have all the fun they can fit in. Yes, SERC will be there next year too, and she knows she can never get too much of Orlando and Universal (with Harry Potter!).

This December holiday, Sharon is taking her third trip this year to the San Francisco Bay Area. Her brother-in-law is trying to kick his cancer, and her sister needs some support with care giving too. Time with family is always good and I am glad she can help her sister and brother-in-law.

Gingerbread Martinis and more

Gamma Omega will be celebrating Friday, December, 5th with our annual Martini Party the flavor was Gingerbread. We will have some rushees and guests in attendance. It will certainly be jolly time for us!

Gamma Omega wants to convey to all Georgia State Council members Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

In January, we will be sponsoring a Stone Painting class event to raise money for Bridge 2 Home, a safe haven for sex-trafficked girls. Aiken, SC is one of three cities in SC to provide assistance so that these girls may have a better life.
